Dear Diary,

My uncle, Peter, runs a big farm in Taitung. My parents and I went there by train this morning and visited him. When we got to his farm, he welcomed us right in front of the farm. On the way to his place, we saw lots of chickens and cows walking and eating the grass around. All of the animals walked freely on the farm and they were very friendly to us. We could even touch them. Uncle Peter only fed his animals with the fresh grass and the clean water from the mountains, and he also played music for the animals when they ate. He took good care of them, so he could sell people the best meat. Uncle Peter taught me how to milk the cows. It was so much fun to get the fresh milk from the cows. In the evening, we had grilled chicken for dinner. It tasted so good.

 How are you doing? I am on vacation in Hollaya with my parents. We have been here for two days. Yesterday we went to a restaurant and tried calas. They were so delicious that we ate too much and were too full to eat dinner.

Today my parents took me to visit Anita, my mother's classmate in high school. She moved to Hollaya about 10 years ago when she got married. She was very nice, and she showed us around the city. In the evening, we went to a theater to see a modern dance show.

Tomorrow we're going shopping. I'll tell you more later.

All the best,
