2. Bill Gates, one of the richest men in the world, began a plan to help people with his wife, Melinda. They set up their foundation in 2000 to carry out some new ideas. They have given away a lot of money to people in need around the world. They hope that by 2030 the world will become totally different. So far, child death has gone down. In 1990, one in 10 children died under age 5. Today, it's one in 20. By 2030, it will be one in 40. It's all because mothers will learn to feed their babies correctly to stop them from dying. Second, with the help of technology, Africa will be able to feed itself. In the next 12 years, online banking will help poor people take better care of their money. The key will be cellphones. By 2030, 8% of the people without saving money in banks today will store money online and buy things with their smartphones. Last, because smartphones will become as cheap as voice-only phones, teachers will be able to make teaching videos themselves and get feedback from their students on the Internet. Bill and Melinda are sure that in ten years, with people's hard work, it is not difficult to make this world a better place.
